QPP Updates For 2019!

February 20, 2019

12:00 Noon – 1:30 p.m.

The first two transition years of the MIPS were implemented gradually to reduce burden and provide flexible participation options, to allow clinicians to spend less time on regulatory requirements and more time with patients. In the 2019 Final Rule, with the overhauling of the MIPS Promoting Interoperability performance category, expansion of eligibility, new opportunities to participate and greater flexibility in reporting, CMS continues to enhance the program while minimizing burden and maximizing impact. Join us as we examine the changes to the QPP for 2019 and discuss how these changes might impact your practice.
